Stanford University

A graphic consisting of three concentric rings of numbers. The outermost ring is composed of the digit '9'. The middle ring is composed of the digit '6'. The innermost ring is composed of the digit '8'. At the bottom center of the rings is a large, bold number '7'.

In 1940, the mathematician Edward Kasner published the book "Mathematics and the Imagination", in which he popularized the words googol and googolplex which his nephew suggested as names for big numbers.
